MR. SUMNER and some others are trying to drum up members of Congress enough for a meeting of the Houses in July. Perhaps success may attend these efforts. Quite a number of the members have gone to the Rocky Mountains, while several more have gone to Europe. Attorney General STANBERRY's interpretation of the Military Government Act is the real pinch. Somebody had to expound it, so that the Generals commanding the respective districts would hold the same rule. The construction of the Attorney General was liberal towards those against whom it was designed to operate, and so far he was governed by the recognized rule of interpretation. He went as far as he could go without ignoring the law. Congress might have anticipated as much. The members knew the inclination of the Administration, and how far it could go under the received principles for expanding statutes; and they took no precautions. The fact is, many of the most important bills have been carelessly drawn. Greater circumspection at the beginning would have saved much trouble afterwards.

Another reason for securing a meeting is to pass a law conferring the right of suffrage on the blacks throughout the whole country, and under a uniform rule. The impression is that public sentiment has so far matured as to make this the most expedient method of closing out the whole matter.

GEN. JAMES W. NYE was last year elected United States Senator for Nevada, over Mr. Charles De Long. A Committee has been investigating the way in which the thing was done. It appears that Nye was put through by means of money. A man named Hanegan, for example, swears that a member, named Cullen, told him he had received $1,350 for voting for Nye. Another witness, named Sears, swears that he received a check for $5,000, with instructions to deliver it to a member named Proctor if he voted for Nye; but as he voted against him it had not been paid. Proctor being called on, refused to testify. Various members testified to having been offered various sums if they would "vote for Nye."

EARLY TO-MORROW MORNING a party of gentlemen, guests of the Company building the Eastern Division of the Union Pacific Railroad, will pass through this city, on the way to St. Louis and Kansas City. From thence they will proceed on the Eastern Division Road as far as completed. A part of the gentlemen will go thence to Denver and a part to Santa Fe, by stage. We expect a gentleman who will be one of the party to give our readers some account of whatever most noteworthy may fall under his observation.

A PARTY, composed mainly of members of Congress, passed through Cleveland, a few days ago, bound on a trip over the Union Pacific Railroad, from Omaha as far as completed, and beyond, by stage, to Denver. This Pacific Railroad is the grandest scheme of this prolific and wonderful age remaining unaccomplished; and it is of high utility for public men, by personal inspection, to become acquainted with its bearings and the details of its construction.

THE release of Mr. DAVIS has disclosed the intensity of the desire on the part of loyal men, North and South, that he should be brought to punishment. This popular expression does not come from the surface, but from the depth of the almost universal conviction that an expiation was due, not simply to the memories of the loyal dead who fell in the great struggle, but to the sense of public justice, and to the repose of the country hereafter.

THE GUBERNATORIAL CANVASS in Tennessee is progressing with great interest. Mr. Emerson Etheridge, the Conservative candidate for Governor, is stumping on his own account, and Mr. W. B. Stokes accompanies him, as the friend of Mr. Brownlow, that gentleman being laid aside from active service by ill-health. So far, Mr. Stokes has decidedly the best of the argument and will doubtless hold it to the end.

WE GIVE ELSEWHERE a letter from Mr. Thaddeus Stevens in vindication of his Confiscation Scheme. However earnestly he may press the project, it will be sure to fail. The day has gone by, if it was ever present, in which either Congress or the people, would consent to his proposition.

IT IS NOW announced that JOHN H. SURRATT will not be brought to trial for the assassination of President LINCOLN, but will be indicted for conspiracy or for treason. In this event his early and unconditional release may be looked for.

HART'S STATUE of Henry Clay was inaugurated at Louisville, Ky., yesterday, with imposing ceremonies.

—Miss Kate Field, the dramatic and literary critic of the New York Tribune, is a little lady, with pleasant features, bright eyes and very quiet demeanor. She spent several years at Florence, Italy, and her first literary effusions were letters about Mrs. Hutton Paul. She has written up Rhetori in this country, through the pages of the Atlantic, Harper and the Tribune, having made a specialty of the great tragedian's genius by personal acquaintance in Italy. Miss Field is a strong advocate of woman's rights, a subjugationist of man hater, and so positive and intense in her loyalty, that her rich Secesh relatives quarreled with her, and she earns her own living by her pen. Miss Kate is about thirty years old, and came of talented theatrical stock.

A VIRGINIA WHITE WOMAN MARRIES A BLACK MAN.—Some talk having been occasioned in this community, says the Winchester (Va.) Republican, of the reported marriage of a white woman to a black man, we have made inquiry into the matter and found that the report is true. The happy groom is a black man, raised and formerly owned by a citizen of Winchester; the bride is a white woman, for some time a resident of Winchester. The marriage ceremony was performed by a colored clergyman.

—A young girl dressed in soldiers' clothes was arrested in Buffalo on Friday. She gave her name as Ann King, aged nineteen, and said she was from "Saint Point," Syracuse, where her parents reside, and that she had seven sisters and eight brothers; that they were very poor, and she, with four sisters, had been obliged to don male attire and drive teams in the canal for a livelihood. She was sent to Syracuse.

—The peach growers of Delaware met in Convention, in Dover, a few days since, when they expressed the opinion that the crop would be abundant this year. As this class is generally given to croaking about the failure of crops, the admission now of an abundant yield may be taken as meaning something extraordinary.

DO JUSTICE TO NATURE.—It is ingratitude to nature not to preserve and keep in splendid order a good set of teeth. Nothing can be easier. All that is needed is to brush them briskly night and morning with purifying Sozodont. It will make the mouth a perfumed palace. mwf.

Anniversary of the American Sunday School Union—Second Day's Session of Convention—Discussion on the Object of Sabbath School Instruction—Sundry Resolutions—State Organization—Prof. W. B. Bradbury—Professor Hart's Lecture—Personal Sketches—Death of the Mother of Bishop Simpson—Social Gathering, Etc., Etc.

[Special Correspondence Pittsburgh Gazette.]

PHILADELPHIA, May 29, 1867.

The Anniversary of the American Sunday School Union, which took place last night at the Academy of Music, was a grand affair. That magnificent building was crowded throughout, even the gallery near the dome was filled. It is estimated about six thousand persons were present. Among the interesting features of the occasion was the singing of several pieces by eight hundred children of both sexes, under the direction of Professor Evans. Hon. James Pollock presided. Around the Chairman was grouped quite a number of notable characters.

Addresses were delivered by Rev. J. Spencer Kennard and Rev. A. A. Willetts, D. D. These addresses were worthy of the occasion.

From the report of the last year we learn the following interesting results: New schools organized, 1,671; teachers, 10,559; scholars, 87,304. Total, schools organized, visited and added 7,761; teachers, 56,754; scholars, 418,-000. Books and other requisites given to Sunday Schools, valued at $15,331 98. Receipts of contributions and legacies received during the year, $20,727 64. Aggregate expenditures, $108,883 25. Being an excess of expenditures over receipts of $16,105,61.

Devotional exercises for half an hour were conducted by Rev. T. A. Fornley, of Philadelphia. Yesterday we referred to this gentleman as being connected with a religious paper in New York. We should have said he is the special correspondent of the Advocate and Journal of New York. He furnishes a weekly letter, which appears on the editorial page, and he is justly entitled to be regarded as a valuable editorial contributor to that influential paper.

Shortly after the business session commenced, Ex-Gov. Pollock, the President, was compelled to leave the Convention. Mr. David Wills, of Gettysburg, took the President, took the chair and preside d during the remainder of the morning session.

The final part of the business session was commended by the Business Committee, namely: "The specific object of Sabbath instruction." This was discussed at length with great zeal, by Rev. S. F. Scovel, of Pittsburgh, Hon. Benj. Rush Bradford, of New Jersey, Prof. Hart, of Philadelphia, Driscoll, Rev. S. W. Thomas, of Philadelphia, and others.

The second part, "The preparation essential for Teachers," etc., was largely discussed, occupying the main portion of the session.

Rev. Griffith Owen, of Baltimore, and Rev. W. C. Cornell, of Massachusetts, was constituted corresponding member of the Convention.

Resolutions were introduced favoring the organization of Normal classes, and also the purchase of ground for a Normal College. Rev. S. F. Scovel, of Pittsburgh, offered a paper relative to the union of Sabbath School institutions, and instructing that the common school education, pledging, so far as possible, to establish a Sabbath school in every educational locality will be built wherever practicable. Weekly teachers' meetings were commended as valuable auxiliaries for the perfection of the lessen for the ensuing year.

The afternoon session was opened with the usual devotional exercises presided over by Mr. Matthew Newkirk, one of the Vice Presidents, in the chair.

The Business Committee reported a programme of exercises for the afternoon and evening sessions; also, for the entire day of Thursday, winding up in the evening with a grand rally. On Thursday, to be arranged and conducted by a committee of ladies from each Evangelical denomination. At this point Mr. Wanamaker took the chair and Judge Pierce presided the remainder of the session.

Reports from counties in alphabetical order (verbal) were called for. Of the list of over sixty counties in this State, but ten responded at this time, to which the matter was deferred to a future session.

Rev. Henry C. Westwood, Secretary of the Maryland State Sunday School Union, was announced and invited to participate in the doings of the Convention.

Committee on Resolutions reported a series of resolutions. The first reads thus—Resolved, That the interests, educational, moral, and religious, of our Sunday Schools demand a stronger and more active love of their work, a more complete and well digested knowledge of their principles, and a higher personality in their attendance on the services of the school—a more watchful care over the deportment of the scholars, both in calling into the school, but including, also, kind visitation at their houses—more faithful, and loving, and intelligent teaching—and all these duties enforced and illustrated by a holy example in all the duties of life.

The remainder of the series of Committee resolutions are in brief as follows: Weekly Teachers meetings commended; Sabbath School institutes recommended as worthy of extensive imitation; urging the organization of Bible classes; Normal classes; Model Sabbath Schools; Temperance Societies should be inaugurated in Sunday schools; the Sabbath School is one of the most serious drawbacks to Sabbath school effects; Administration at the establishment of a Sunday School College by one of the leading (Methodist Episcopal) denominations of our country, and incidentally recommending Sabbath schools as preparatory for teaching; Several resolutions of the series of a score were recommitted to the Committee.

At this juncture, Mr. Newkirk offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That W. B. Bradbury, Esq., of New York, the composer of the beautiful Sabbath School Hymns, be invited to act as a corresponding member.

Mr. Bradbury was received by the Convention by rising, after which, he made a short and touching address. Here Mr. Wanamaker awakened the tenderest sympathy, as he is in feeble health, and scarcely able to go abroad. He is the author of "Sweet Hour of Prayer."

A letter from the Commissioners appointed by the Philadelphia Sunday School Conference, tendering their cordial co-operation in the Sunday school work, on behalf of that body, was read, and the Committee on Resolutions instructed to report a resolution in response.

On motion of Dr. Murphy, by the way one of the efficient workers in the Convention, the report of the Committee on State Organization was taken up. The report, which consists of considerable length, presenting the necessity of a better organization of the Sunday School interests of the State, the difficulties to surmount, and offering suggestions to aid in accomplishing the object. The report was accepted, and the matter left for discussion, which elicited some spicy remarks in regard to some features. It was decided that the expedient be not forced on State organization. The preparing of a Constitution for a State Organization was referred back to the Committee of nine, when a lively discussion was pending the Convention closed with singing "sweet Hour of Prayer," and prayer by Mr. Cornell.

Evening sessions opened with the usual devotional exercises, conducted by Rev. Mr. Smith, of Philadelphia, and lasted thirty minutes. At eight o'clock Mr. M. Newkirk, Vice President, called the Convention together, and introduced Prof. Gaskill, principal of the State Normal School of New Jersey. The Professor discussed "The Duty of Superintendents," for the coming year, in the following important items: 1. Punctuality; 2. Preparedness; 3. Notices; 4. Giving out the Hymn; 5. Making Selections for Singing; 6. Prayer.

At the close of the lecture, a resolution of thanks was tendered to Prof. Hart.

Ex-Gov. Pollock expressed his obligations for the gentleman the tender of thanks was tendered to Prof. Hart, prefacing with some highly felicitous remarks.

The principal part of the evening was spent in discussing the project of State Organization.

It is noteworthy the number of distinguished ministers and laymen in the body, and most of the latter, strange to say, are pretty far advanced in life. Reference has already been made to Governor Pollock, whose graceful natural demeanor is so conspicuous. Without any pretension, but an aristocratic cast, there is nevertheless a dignified air in his manner which attracts intelligent attention at once. No one can see he retains such a genial countenance and seem to laugh at the marks of time.

Among the most active workers, is Mr. M. Swaim, a man of princely wealth, as his marble palace residence, and other means indicate. Though a gentleman of a ratige, he has the buoyancy of youth, and possesses great suavity of manners. He is regarded here as one of the railroad kings and as devoted a subject of Christ as you will meet with.

W. B. Bradbury, of Pittsburgh in the Convention as a representative from a school near Oakland. Among the noted Philadelphians in attendance may be mentioned, the en-route for New York is the genial W. J. Ogden, Esq., Superintendent of the Pittsburgh Cultivator, whose office and offices for the press are well known to you.

The venerable mother of the distinguished Bishop Simpson, who resides in this city, after a brief illness, died on Monday, at the advanced age of eighty six years. She is to be buried on Wednesday. Fortunately for the Bishop, who is rather an unusual thing, his Episcopal duties call him away so much. The numerous friends and relatives of the lady will be grieved to learn of he decease.

MEXICAN AFFAIRS—TREATMENT OF PRISONERS.

A translation of the official communication published in the Boletin De Oriente, official paper of General Diaz, and dated headquarters, Gaudaloupe Hidalgo, 29th ult., shows the treatment which the prisoners of war received from the Liberals. The General-in-Chief has ordered that all who were made prisoners at the battles of Manhattan and Lacarbonda, shall be set at liberty; also, those captured in the assault upon Puebla, and the forts of Guadalupe and Loreto. Among the prisoners were more than six hundred Europeans of various nationalities. This disposition, however, does not apply to those who, by their own free will, have taken up arms against the Republic.

The first act of the Indian Peace Commissioners, after their organization, was to send out a party of surveyors to survey the reservation in Kansas, lying west of the Arkansas river, to the 100th meridian, on the old Spanish line, which were ceded in trust to the United States by a treaty with the Indians, Sept. 29th, 1865, and will be sold for the benefit of the Indians. Letter from Walter Brown, Champion Oarsman of America.

FIFTH STREET HOTEL,
PORTLAND ME., May 27, 1867.

EDITORS OF PITTSBURGH GAZETTE:—Dear Sirs: Wordscannot express the feelings of thankfulness I entertain towards the people of Pittsburgh (barring the Hamill party) for the kind and generous manner I was received by them on my sojourner among them, preparatory to the aquatic event which took place on May 21st. To the journals of Pittsburgh I am indebted for publications, as their columns were at all times at my service; and the fair manner in which they described my performance from points too delicate to allude to, cannot be forgotten by me and those interested in my welfare in this vicinity.

To Bell and Trainer, Fred. Deist: At that name my pen hesitates; stands paralised; I cannot furnish language adequate to express the warm feeling I bear him. He is a man, true as steel, who watched my every move, and looked after my interests as though they were his own. He appeared to me as though the entire aquatic world was against me, with letters of discouragement, he always had a cheering word, and stood by me in the condition in which he brought me to the starting line ready for the contest, is a sufficient testimony of his skill as an oarsman. To the police, sheriff and constables, and clothing them with powers of magistrates. These committees have been instrumental in all cases where they may have reason to believe justice is not done.

Inauguration of Henry Clay Statue —Brilliant Demonstration.

[By Telegraph to the Pittsburgh Gazette.]

LOUISVILLE, May 30.—The inauguration of the marble statue of Henry Clay, before the Court house, took place to-day and was one of the most brilliant demonstrations ever made in this city. The procession of the different orders and associations was very long and imposing. Judge W. F. Bullock delivered an eloquent oration in front of the Court house, which was listened to by an immense crowd of both sexes and all colors. The ode written for the occasion, by George D. Prentice, is pronounced to be his ablest effort. Business was fully suspended.

To Wholesale Buyers of Dry Goods we offer bargains in job lots of Dress Goods, Shawls, Hosiery Goods, and full lines of Sheetings, Shirtings, Prints, Ticking, Checks, &c., all of which we will sell at the very lowest eastern cash prices.

Monongahela Valley Railroad.

Mass Convention of the Citizens of the Valley at Elizabeth, Pa—Resolutions and Speeches.

Pursuant to announcement the corporators and friends of the projected new railroad, connecting the upper Monongahela Valley with Pittsburgh, held a mass convention at the Reformed Presbyterian Church, Elizabeth, Pa., yesterday afternoon. The attendance was very large, many of the visitors representing the wealth and capital of the districts to be benefitted by the road. We also observed many Pittsburghers, among whom were Hon. T. J. Bigham, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, W. O. Hughart, Esq., President of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, and Captain Henry B. Hays.

At one o'clock the Convention was called to order by Dr. J. S. Van Voorhies, Chairman of the Board of Incorporators, after which J. Walker, Jr., Esq., read the minutes of the previous meeting held at the Monongahela House, Pittsburgh, on the 9th inst. There being no objection the journal of previous proceedings was approved. Vacating the chair in favor of Dr. John A. Shafer, the chairman proceeded to read the following Preamble and Resolutions:

WHEREAS, The corporators named in the Act of Assembly incorporating the Monongahela Valley Railroad are about to open books of subscription to the capital stock; and,

Whereas, A certain amount of stock, according to the terms of the charter, must be subscribed before an organization of the Company can be effected; and,

Whereas, The early completion of said road is of the utmost importance to the interests of the citizens of the valley; therefore,

Resolved, That we most cordially approve the project of a railroad along the Monongahela River, and that we will give it our undivided support, and that we will aid by all just and honorable means the organization of the Company at the earliest possible time.

Resolved, That inasmuch as it is necessary to build the road to at least $800,000 before an organization of the company, this sum be apportioned along the river as follows, West of Birmingham, Jones, Laughlin & McKeesport, $10,000; Elizabeth, $6,000; Limestone, $1,000; Monongahela city, $5,000; Webster, $3,000; Centreport, $3,000; Belle Vernon, $4,000; California and Greenfield, $6,000; Brownsville, $15,000; Fredericktown and Millsborough, $5,000; New Geneva, $2,000; Waynesburg and Greensburg, $3,000; and that it be recommended to each place to secure their assessment as speedily as may be found possible, and that we recommend to corporators to give public notice of the time when they will visit the respective localities to receive the subscriptions secured as above mentioned.

Resolved, That a Committee of three be appointed to confer with the proper authorities of the different railroads leading into the city of Pittsburgh, and solicit their aid and co-operation in the early completion of the road.

The Committee on Resolutions then retired, and during their absence Hon. T. J. Bigham, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, W. O. Hughart, Esq., President of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, and Captain Henry B. Hays, addressed the meeting in support of the project.

The following gentlemen were appointed the Committee in accordance with the last resolution: Hon. T. J. Bigham, Gen. J. B. Sweitzer, and Captain Henry B. Hays, Belle Vernon.

Pending the adoption of the resolutions, Dr. Van Voorhis delivered quite a lengthy address, in which he referred to the great and growing trade between Monongahela City and the demands for an improvement in transportation. The subject of a railroad has long occupied the attention of citizens of the valley, but each attempt to get legislative authority to authorize its construction signally failed until 1867, when a bill

THE MAYORALTY.

The Dispatch seeks to institute and maintain a distinction without a difference. It denies having put Mr. GLASS forward as its candidate for Mayor, and affirms it only intended to give its "estimate of the relative strength of the candidates." This is a subtlety which weighs for nothing with the general public, and which less than nothing with newspaper men. Its estimate of Mr. GLASS's superior popularity over his rivals was most likely predicated on its own partiality for him.

It may be true the Dispatch's did more to nominate and elect Mr. MCCARTHY than "any of his friends," which is an expression of some ambiguity. But, is that a reason why Mayor MCCARTHY shou'd allow the Dispatch to control his Police appointments? Our contemporary might have been content with an arrangement in its behalf, but the people would not.

Does the Dispatch now go in for Mr. GLASS, hoping to have better luck with him, in controlling his official action, than it has had with the incumbent? So long as such a suspicion prevails, Mr. GLASS will find a serious hindrance in his path. The people do not mean to elect a man Mayor with a reasonable probability that he will be a puppet in the hands of any newspaper.

Nor can the Managing Editor of the Dispatch make a flank movement in this discussion by raising a question of veracity with the Managing Editor of the GAZETTE. The people of this city are sufficiently well acquainted with each to form a judgment between them a priori. Besides, the latter gentleman is quite competent to take care of himself without any help from us.

As we said a day or two ago, it is altogether too early to consider who shall be the next Republican candidate for Mayor. The question of Municipal Consolidation ought first to be disposed of. It will make a material difference as to the sort of man the people will be satisfied with as a candidate, whether the city limits shall be largely extended or remain as they now are. If additional population shall be taken in, then the question of the Mayoralty ought to be left in such a shape that the new voters will feel they take a fair start; that the nomination has not been predetermined; and that all the subordinate places have not been parcelled out by a clique in the Dispatch office or any other place.

These considerations derive additional weight from the opinion expressed by many learned lawyers, that Consolidation has already been decreed by the very terms of the law, submission to the people being unconstitutional and consequently void. It is not our province to judge, being laymen, whether this opinion is sound or unsound; but it is maintained by gentlemen of high repute in the legal profession. If this opinion shall be sustained, or if the people of the various municipalities shall decide by vote to be included in this city, it is not only politic, but demanded by the plainest principles of common justice that no State for City offices be made up for some months yet.

If Consolidation shall actually happen, a man of great breadth of understanding, of high executive abilities, of the best personal character, and of commanding influence, will be needed to put the new machinery in motion. It may be thought expedient to go outside the present city limits to find him. At all events, the election should remain unprejudiced.

When the proper time shall arrive, whether Consolidation shall take place in whole or in part, or not at all, if Mr. GLASS shall be fairly presented by the Republican City Convention as the candidate for Mayor, we shall not support Mr. JAMES BLACKMORE, nor shall we do anything to induce Republicans to vote for him, but shall give the ticket squarely all the support in our power. We do not believe in the Dispatch's idea of compassing or defeating a nomination by threats thrown out in advance of an intention by ourselves or others to defeat the Republican nominees.

It is doubtless true, as the Dispatch asserts, that Mr. MCCARTHY came very near a defeat at the election a year ago last January. It may suit the present purposes of our contemporary to attribute that result to Mr. MCCARTHY's unpopularity. The fact is, however, that it was the peculiar backing the Dispatch gave him, and of which it now arrogantly boasts, that put him in peril. The people have submitted to the extraordinary methods of the Dispatch as long as they mean to; and if Mr. GLASS, or any other aspirant to the Mayoralty, wishes to sink into the vocative, he can best accomplish that end by engaging our contemporary to lay itself out right earnestly in his behalf.

POLITICAL MALADIES.

Time was when persons afflicted with certain mental or physical maladies were treated as proper subjects of contumely and abuse; of malice, hatred and all uncharitableness. They were driven forth from among men, and compelled to share the deserts with wild beasts. The ferocity of those rude times is marked by no other peculiarity stronger than by this.

Since then a vast improvement has been wrought in the conceptions of all civilized communities in respect to persons afflicted by visitation of Providence. Only here and there a barbarian has managed to escape his proper epoch, and appear in this age to the astonishment of all men to consider truly what he is.

The [illegible] decides that "Radicalism is [illegible] disease." Then it must have its origin in some abnormity of mental or moral organization, and the persons afflicted with it are no more censurable than those who suffer from hypochondria or insanity; nay, than those who take the small-pox or cholera.

In this view of the matter, the Post's vehement and unremitted denunciation and abuse of those who are smitten with the "disease" of "radicalism," exposes it to the severest censure. It is simply essaying to repeat the enormity of those old barbarians who drove off into the wilderness, as "possessed of devils," those of their neighbors or kindred upon whom God had laid an affliction.

But we avail ourselves of the occasion to make another suggestion. Radical, etymologically, seems not to have a harmful import. It refers—1. To the root or origin of a matter; 2. To anything implanted by nature; native; constitutional; and 3. To a substance or essence, primitive, underived, uncompounded. Radicalism, therefore, in politics, must consist in advocating such changes in the laws as are dictated by fundamental principles inhering in nature itself. It is not easy to see how Radicalism in this sense, can be held odious or hurtful by any man who believes that political rights have their roots in the nature and relations of human beings.

If, however, our contemporary does not use the word Radicalism in its genuine signification, but only in the slang sense of political demagogues and imposters, as indicating a class of men who incline to go further in a particular direction than it does, the case is bravely altered. If going to extremes, and with undue heat, is Radicalism, then we know not another journal that is half as Radical as the Post. It goes a great deal do [illegible] towards the South pole than we in excess [illegible] the North pole. It is always [illegible] month, it keeps [illegible] by day, and month by [illegible] in a foam of excitement and rage because [illegible] world moves forward instead of backw[illegible] pressing its horns at every man who [illegible] to run his head into the antediluvian darkness in which it delights. If it would only moderate its style, by taking the delirium from the edge of its rhetoric, it would stand some chance of getting a proper view of its own attitude; and that attained, it might be led to adopt a charitable estimate of those who happen to differ with it in opinion.

OUR BOOK TABLE.

AMERICAN GRAPE CULTURE AND WINE MAKING. By Peter B. Meade. New York: Harper & Brothers.

Grape Culture and Wine Making especially, are yet in their infancy. Still the principles and conditions upon which success depends are tolerably well established. The interest which these branches of business excites becomes more general from year to year. Vineyards are multiplying. In some sections most households are abundantly supplied with grapes as an article of diet, to the increase of health as well as comfort. A premium has even been offered to the first township furnishing proper evidence that every family in it has a vine. In all the large towns the markets are beginning to be tolerably well supplied, though, in many instances, not as cheaply as is desirable for the common good. Still the progress that has been made may be taken as a sure prophesy of much more that is to come.

Wine Making, also, has taken a start, and the promise now is that the United States is destined, within a comparatively brief space, to produce more wine, than any other country on the globe. Indeed, there are many people, not a few of them genuine friends of sobriety, who look to such an augmentation of this manufacture as shall make wine a common beverage, as one of the chief instrumentalities for diminishing, if not eradicating, the evil of drunkenness. They base this anticipation on the comparative failure of all other means, so far essayed, to arrest and turn back the tide of dissipation that threatens to deluge this nation, and on the comparative exemption of wine growing counties from inebriety. How far these expectations are legitimate, and destined to be realized, it is not our province here to determine.

The object of Mr. MEADE's book is to treat of all the facts and principles involved in his subject, so as to make it of the highest value to the amateur, as well as the gardener and vineyardist. This he has succeeded in doing in a most excellent manner, illustrating the whole with nearly two hundred engravings from nature. These cuts exhibit the different sorts of vines and fruits, the methods for managing them, the insects that prey upon the plants, the ways of preserving grapes and of converting them into wine. We know of no book in this country more complete for the purposes intended.

THE INVISIBLES: An Explanation of Phenomena, commonly called spiritual. Philadelphia: S. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

The author of this volume judiciously withholds his name. The nearest revelation he makes of himself is in stating that he belongs in Ohio. About one-third of the volume is occupied with narratives of his intercourse with spirits. The larger part of them, according to the account he gives, were of a most profligate sort, and did not desire to be any better. They told him all manner of lies, and played pranks with him generally, going so far as to kick him violently in the stomach when he was walking in the streets. He claims to be a writing medium, and tells with exemplary gravity of the contests the spirits of good and bad women had for mastery over the pen he used; the bad commonly getting the better in these scuffles. Another is occupied with an explanation of his narrative. Doubtless, to his own mind, he has made the case transparent enough; but plain people, after reading what he has offered, will find themselves in the predicament BYRON was in with COLERIDGE's elucidation of metaphysics, and wish "he would explain his explanation."

It is a fact that many people of refinement, intelligence and unblemished morality, accept the theory and practice of actual intercourse with the spirits of departed. That they are led in this direction by facts which have not been explained away, is evident. Still, we are constrained to confess that all statements of the philosophy of this intercourse, and all practical illustrations of it, which have fallen under our observation, are weak almost to puerility. This volume does not furnish an exception.

THE RECTOR'S WIFE; Or, The Valley of a Hundred Fires. By the author of "Margaret and her Bridesmaids," "Lords and Ladies," &c. Philadelphia: T. B. Peterson & Brother.

The principal scenes of this novel are among the mountains of Wales, in the great iron district, where it would seem that not "a hundred," but a thousand fires are constantly belching forth smoke and flame, and where tens of thousands of hardy workpeople earn their bread either by digging and delving in the bowels of the earth, or by roasting about the lurid fires which burn ever with an intensity that would give one a vivid idea of the infernal regions, were it not for the fact that even here is the abode of contentment and, indeed, happiness. The story of the "Rector's Wife" is a simple one. A beautiful girl, who is all heart, marries a young clergyman who, if not all head, is more practical; but they are happy together, and give to the world a goodly family, with many moral lessons. It is a book worthy to be read carefully.

ELEMENTARY PRINCIPLES IN ART. A Lecture. Boston: Roberts Brothers.

This is a pamphlet reproduction of an essay which originally appeared in Macmillan's Magazine, London.

THE ATLANTIC MONTHLY for June. Boston.

The second article in this number is by Mr. Parton, and is devoted to St. Louis. The eleventh article is on Russian America, and embodies substantially the facts and arguments which suddenly converted a decided majority of the members of the Senate from opponents to supporters of the treaty for acquiring the Territory. Even apart from these two articles this number is one of unusual excellence.

ELSIE MAGOON, or the Old Still House in the Hollow. By Mrs. Frances Dana Gage. Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a Temperance story, written with an excellent moral purpose, and a fair degree of ability. The incidents are professedly from real life, but strung upon a thread of narrative for the sake of unity and general effect. In the heroine the endeavor is to portray a true woman, filling her place as wife, mother, and member of society. The conception is so wrought out as to sustain the interest to the end.

SEBASTOPOL WITCH. By G. T. Trowbridge. Boston: Lee & Shepard. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

This is a well-told story, and of excellent purpose, which originally appeared in the Atlantic Monthly. It is well worth the permanent form now given to it. Not only will those who read the chapters of it as it first appeared be glad to have it in this shape, but multitudes more will find interest and satisfaction in its pages.

A WEEK IN A FRENCH COUNTRY HOUSE. From "The Cornhill Magazine." Boston: Loring. Pittsburgh: H. Miner.

This is a pamphlet of the series known as "Loring Railway Library." The selections are all admirable, and this number is not an exception. No better material to fill a vacant hour, whether at home or abroad, can be desired.

CECIL CASTLEMAINE'S GAGE, LADY MARAMONT'S TROUBLES, and OTHER STORIES. By "Ouida." Philadelphia: J. B. Lippincott & Co. Pittsburgh: Davis, Clarke & Co.

The author of Chandos, Granride de Vigne, and Strathmore, has given us here a series of sketches, mainly of English life, a century or more ago, and in a natural and charming style.

Denver.

Denver is a clever place, and has clever, substantial, thrifty people. I have seen no place west of the Mississippi that equals it in elements of positive prosperity. They have gone through the severest ordeal, and have come out purified in the crucible of sad experience. They have seen the day when gamblers, cut-throats and thieves controlled everything here—elected their municipal officers, possessed the wealth of the city, intimidated the officers of the law, and held high carnival in their work of robbery and death. But crime culminated, as it ever does, and gave birth to Vigilance Committees which made a number of the most desperate outlaws dance jigs upon nothing on the hill hard by. Sometimes they would give them the form of a trial by an improvised court, but the poor devil who was ever brought before that court knew that his time had come. At other times they would determine upon the death of some notorious outlaw, and a select party, chosen for the task, would "go for him," as they say out here, and a hasty funeral was sure to follow. One fellow named Steel, took offence, several years ago, at an editorial in the News, and rode up to the editorial office and fired several shots at Mr. Byers, the Editor, while another man stood off some distance to protect the assassin. A simultaneous hunt was made for Steel, and in less than half an hour he lay on the pavement dead, having been shot as he turned a corner in his effort to escape. Steel had a brother who resolved to take the life of the man who had killed him, and for two years they kept a look out for him. Once they met on a highway both armed with rifles, but Steel was not the first to recognize his foe, and when he did recognize him, his rifle was leveled. He did not fire, however, but told Steel to pass, which he did in safety, with a "dead bead" drawn on him until he was out of range. Subsequently they met in New Mexico, and the recognition was simultaneous, both attempted to fire, but the "drop" was got on Steel, and he shared the fate of his brother, and from the same hands. The man is now a quiet, respected citizen of Denver, and is generally beloved for exterminating the Steels. Another murderer was hung by the vigilants among the Indians, captured, brought back and hung, and a man named Ford was taken from the coach a few miles east of the city, by a company of the vigilants, shot by the road side and buried. Who did it, no one has ever inquired. Many doubtless could guess, while some certainly know; but it is a forbidden topic. Ford had to die to give peace and security to Denver, and he was therefore shot like a dog. It is worthy of note that the people of new territories, who are annoyed by the usual incursion of desperadoes, make it a point of honor not to banish them to other countries. They consider it in the highest degree dishonorable, and they never allow it. One citizen of this territory, otherwise highly respected, has lost the confidence of the people for a life-time, for saving the life of a bad man on condition that he should leave the country forever. "It's a pity," they say—"he's a clever man, but he didn't do the fair thing in getting that fellow off." Two years ago they had pretty well banished the characters dangerous to the peace and safety of the citizens, but the orderly gamblers still controlled the municipality, had vast wealth, and pursued their shameless vocation in open day. They had their gambling houses in some of the best buildings and business localities of the city, conducted them in view of every passer-by, just like merchants and tradesmen, had bands of music playing in front of the doors to entice the stranger, and were most prosperous. Indeed so powerful were they at one time, that they controlled the Legislature, something after the Pennsylvania fashion I doubt not, to pass a bill legalizing gambling, and it is the chief blot on Governor Evans's official record that he approved the measure. Last winter a year the growing morality of Denver rose up against the gamblers, and drove them out. They still doubtless remain in some numbers, but they dare not expose their business to the public gaze, and they are under as wholesome restraint as in our best governed cities. It was this early history of Denver that made Dixon blunder so fearfully as to its present social condition. To-day it is as free from open outrages upon public morals as any western place of the same size. Indeed, I regard it as far in advance of most of them. In Omaha the two most attractive and courted ladies at the most fashionable hotel in the place, were, when I was there, known as "Mrs. Faro" and "Mrs. Kino." Here they would not be tolerated in any circle outside of a church pew or a horse race. On Sunday the city was as quiet and orderly as is Chambersburg, and the number of elegant churches, seminaries, schools, including a convent, reading room, &c., leaving no room to doubt that Denver has a moral tone controlling its social life quite above the average of new cities. Dixon seems to have fallen into queer hands when he was there. His hero of the city is Bob Wilson, who, like the prophets, perhaps, is unknown as a hero here, and his statement that from three to five persons were usually killed during the night, and sometimes in open day, has not the shadow of truth to justify it. Upon the whole, I have found no place in the far west that appears to be so pleasant socially, and so substantial in its business, as is Denver. True, it discounts its future development at the precious metals, but not more than is fully warranted.—Cor. Chambersburg Repository.

A Jealous Husband Shoots Himself Through the Heart.

[From the Poughkeepsie, N. Y. Eagle.]

The peaceable, quiet loving citizens of the little town of Stanford, in this county, were thrown into a state of most intense excitement at nearly the hour of noon on Monday, by the report that Edmund I. Underhill, of the town of Washington, had taken his own life at a house in that rustic village. In a few moments after the report gained publicity, a visit to the scene where the fatal act was said to have been committed, confirmed the statement. The particulars, as related to us by a gentleman from the eastern part of the county are as follows:

THE SUICIDE.

Edmund I. Underhill, the suicide, was about thirty years of age, and has a brother residing at Hartsville. His existence, in a connubial point of view, has been full of sorrow and disappointments, he having been married three times. It is stated that he was known to have a very jealous disposition. His first wife, soon after their marriage, became acquainted with another man, which acquaintance soon ripened into open and bold signs of affection, and in a short time thereafter, so brazen was her conduct, that her husband could do nought else but sue for a divorce, which he did, and obtained it. By this wife he had one child, a girl now seven or eight years of age, and the only child he has left. A short time after receiving a divorce from his first wife, he formed an acquaintance with another female, and soon after married her. The second wife also became enamored with another man, and the honeymoon had scarcely passed, ere she too dishonored his name. Again he instituted proceedings for another divorce, which, after a lengthy trial at the Court House, in this city, was granted him, the evidence against the second wife being overwhelming. The latter case happened a little over one year ago. For the third time the ill-fated man married, the affair taking place shortly after the second divorce was obtained.

THE SUICIDE'S WIFE.

His third wife, now his widow, is well known in the vicinity of Stanford and the town of Washington, and has always borne a good character. She was housekeeper for several years for Dr. Peck (formerly Supervisor Peck) and we are informed was looked upon as a lady in every sense of the word, is about forty-five years of age, and rather prepossessing in appearance. Latterly, however, it is said Underhill had entertained an idea that she was untrue to him, his many friends' assertions to the contrary, notwithstanding. However much he may have thought her treacherous, we are assured that she did not deserve the charge.

THE FATAL ACT.

On the day of the fatal affair (Monday) Underhill's wife was visiting at the residence of Egbert Tripp, in the town of Stanford. Between nine and ten o'clock in the morning of that day Underhill was observed in the village by a number of persons, but no importance was attached to his presence so early in the morning. He was armed with a revolver, and after being in town but a short time proceeded to Tripp's house, where his wife was staying. She seeing him coming, and observing his singular expression of countenance, became frightened and rushed up stairs into a room, locking the door after her. He followed immediately, evidently intent on doing harm.

Arriving at the door of the room, and finding it locked, he became greatly excited, and immediately sewed himself on the steps or floor, and taking out a memorandum book wrote a few lines to his brother, Hiram Underhill, of Hartsville, the purport of which was that he had with him $288,55 towards the payment of a certain note of $300. He also requested his brother to take good care of his child, and stated that that would be the last communication he would make on earth. Having thus briefly closed his worldly affairs, he deliberately drew his revolver, and placing the muzzle against his breast fired, and falling over died almost instantly. The scene that followed was, of course, an exciting one. The appearance of the fast flowing blood of the dead man, the shrieks of the inmates of the dwelling, and the rush of the villagers were part and parcel of the tragic scene.

Mr. Stevens on Confiscation.

LANCASTER, PA., May 10, 1867.

Dear Sir:—Short as your letter is, I fear I cannot answer it without violating an injunction of my medical adviser "not to suffer myself to become excited." You live in a region which was two or three times invaded by the armies of Jefferson Davis, in the counties of Bedford, Fulton, Franklin, Cumberland, Adams and York. They visited almost every farmer and other inhabitant, and plundered them of their horses, cattle, provisions, wagons and money, where found. Besides some detached cases, they laid in ashes one thriving village of 6,000 people, and turned the inhabitants houseless into the streets to seek shelter in fence corners. No provision has ever been made, or is now making, to reimburse the plundered citizens.

By the law of nations a government makes no compensation for damages done by an invading army, unless such government be victorious, when it always provides by treaty for the payment by the vanquished enemy. A government which neglects to make such provisions in behalf of its plundered citizens is basely negligent of its duty. A quasi peace exists between the late belligerents, the terms of which are dictated wholly by Congress, which is under the control of the Republican party. Nothing but the proceeds of the confiscation of a small portion of the property of wealthy rebels can be applied to pay the damage inflicted by those marauders, unless it be paid out of the Treasury of the United States.

A few Republican meteors, always erratic in their course, are flitting through and exploding in the Republican atmosphere. They attract sufficient public attention to enable them to assure the amiable rebels who inflicted this injury that they need fear no confiscation—that nobody of any note in the North is in favor of imposing such punishment for the sake of remuneration or of justice. They assure them that nothing shall be taken from Aiken's estate of millions, from Hampton, Davis, or Faulkner, or from a thousand others who are still worth their hundreds of thousands, to reimburse the loyal men North and South, who were plundered of their estates, and to aid your neighbors to rebuild their humble tenements.

It is scarcely to be endured that Congress for two sessions should be indifferent to these sufferings and take no steps to enforce these rights. These remarks apply to large portions of Maryland, of West Virginia, Ohio, Indiana and Missouri, as well as to the slave States.

He who can patiently listen to that putrid humanity we now see propagated, has more command of himself than I have. Indeed it looks as if we were still to add to the burden of our taxation, to defray the expenses of transportation and the ovations of triumphant traitors.

But I must stop, or I shall commit the fault against which I have been warned. With great respect your obedient servant,

[Signed] THADDEUS STEVENS.

BE ON YOUR GUARD

Against the imitations and counterfeits of HOSTETTER'S STOMACH BITTERS, with which the PIRATES who make DISHONORABLE LIVING, by preying upon the sick and suffering, are now endeavoring to flood the markets of this country. Whenever these POISON-MONGERS are discovered they are immediately prosecuted by the proprietors, who expend thousands of dollars annually in tracing them out and bringing them to justice. Within a short time injunctions have been obtained in the Courts of the United States against a number of individuals and firms, and suits are now in progress against several others, all of whose names will be given to the public. But in spite of the utmost vigilance and activity of their detective agents, the undersigned are of course unable to protect the public entirely against piratical imitations of a Standard National Tonic, everywhere in request, and as readily convertible into cash as United States Bonds or Treasury Notes. They, therefore, as a measure of precaution, direct attention to the fact that a finely engraved label, representing St. George and the Dragon, and a beautiful proprietary stamp, bearing the official endorsement of the Government Agent on every bottle of the genuine BITTERS. The article is further authenticated by a miniature note of hand, with the signature of "Hostetter & Smith," on the counterfeit, which is a base prison crime. The true BITTERS are sold in glass bottles, and never in bulk.
HOSTETTER & SMITH,

PINUS CANADENSIS.

A tree which is abundant in Canada, Nova Scotia, and the more northern parts of the New England States, and is also found in the elevated and mountainous regions of the Middle States, and abounds in medicinal virtues. Dr. Swett, of Boston, has prepared a medicine from the sweet inside bark of the pine tree, called POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND, which is one of rare value in all debilitated states of the kidneys. It acts like a charm in all diseases of mucous membranes, exhaling them to regain their vigor tone and energy. It will be found well adapted to all those diseases, where Buchu has been tried and failed. It is likewise useful and in chronic coughs, and an infallible specific for old and debilitated cases of asthma. Many persons who at first only took a bottle of this medicine, to try, afterwards came back and got a dozen, or half dozen, which effected full cures of diseases of the bladder and kidney of years standing.

Diabetes, a disease that has been looked upon as among the incurables, is immediately relieved by it. Notice the certificate of Asa Goodnow, published some time ago.

The United States Dispensatory, speaking of the pines, says: "All prescribed in the form of elixir, and other diseases of the urinary passages; in piles and chronic inflammation or ulceration of the bowels, in chronic catarrh, affections, and in various forms of rheumatism." It is extendingly valuable in all cases of consumption, bloody urine, and where there is red and white sediment. It can be taken without interruption to one's usual avocations; and instead of sickening, produces a bracing, healthy power of endurance and vigor. Price $1 per bottle or six bottles, $5 the half dozen.

Ask for POLAND'S WHITE PINE COMPOUND. For sale by the gross, dozen or single bottle, at DR. KEYSER'S Great Medicine store, 140 Wood street.

The Mayor and Alderman Strain's Prisoner—Explanation.

The statement is made that Mayor McCarthy, on Wednesday night, refused to permit the man, John Hensler, charged with stabbing William F. Barclay, in Duquesne borough, to be locked up in the tombs, without a warrant. This is the fact, and without explanation would indicate very strange action on the part of the Mayor. His Honor represents to us that the parties who brought the man to the tombs, stated that an information had been made against him. He (the Mayor) then asked for their warrant, which it was reasonable to suppose they had, if an information was made. They had no warrant, and made no effort to secure one, although to do so it would only have been necessary to walk a few squares to the office of Alderman Strain, whose officers had the man in custody. Instead of complying with the Mayor's demand, they took the prisoner to the Allegheny tombs.

No one will believe that Mayor McCarthy would act so foolishly, so entirely unreasonable, as to absolutely refuse to allow the prisoner, charged with so serious an offense, to be locked up, without some cause. His explanation is that the proceeding being so far regular as to the matter of the information, the requirement of a warrant should also be complied with, in order that the action on his part, in receiving the prisoner, would be entirely legal. He, instead of putting themselves to the comparatively small trouble of procuring the warrant, the officers went to Allegheny City as stated.

Admit that the Mayor was strained in his action, stood upon a technicality, as it were, is that of the custodians of the prisoner entirely free from the supposition that they acted from a motive, which, if not improper, justifies the belief that the design was to gain a point on the Mayor, with a view of stigmatizing him in the eyes of the public. The Mayor, in a legal sense, was in the right, while Alderman Strain and his posse were not acting in strict accordance with the law, justifiable, perhaps, in the view that they were exercising extra efficiency, a circumstance in connection with which the record indicates that while the officers decry the conduct of the Mayor, they would have the public fully persuaded, if they can, of their able sagacity with which they acted in securing a red-handed murderer, as they supposed. We can see nothing in this case which justifies the wholesale onslaught made on the Mayor, and think the instigators might be better content with the mercy they may have obtained, without such an extraordinary show of virtuous indignation about the affair in which their own skirts are not entirely clear.

Thieving Depredations in the Suburbs

For some weeks a set of thieving vagrants have been depredating on the north side of the Allegheny, in the outskirts of Allegheny city and neighborhood of Sharpsburg, to such an extent that a feeling of insecurity pervades that section. So far the offenders have escaped apprehension, notwithstanding earnest efforts on the part of the police to trace them out. The scamps have been content to confine themselves to any particular kind of thieving, and, except in the matter of taking horses, they have not as yet plundered to any considerable extent. The fact, however, has been evidenced that there is a well organized band of thieves, a band of thieves, in considerable number, and the experience thus far had of their doings has induced the citizens to suffer, and those likely to suffer, to contemplate united action looking to the extermination of those pests of their neighborhood.

The fact is patent that people in the suburbs of the city feel greatly the want of adequate police protection, and suffer therefrom. For years the corporations immediately adjacent to Pittsburgh and Allegheny City have depended in a great measure upon the city police to protect them from marauders and malefactors, and as the population increased this protection, however effective it may before been, at this day amounts to but little. In the city proper are organized police forces, not more than sufficient to afford protection within their proper bailiwicks, and those in the suburbs, in the different boroughs, where no sort of police system exists, the vagrants of society, driven from the city, find a resting place and opportunity to commit crime, with but the same degree of apprehension that they will be interrupted or arrested.

When the great city of Pittsburgh exists, as contemplated by the consolidation act, then, and not until then, will the citizens of the suburban corporations be afforded that security of life and property which should be accorded in this enlightened community.

Throwing Stones at Railroad Trains.

William Mellin, aged about fifteen years, residing at Greensburg, has been arrested for throwing stones at trains on the Pennsylvania Railroad while passing a point near "Carr's tunnell." For some time past the Altoona Accommodation train when coming west in the evening, about eight o'clock, was struck with stones while passing a certain point a short distance east of Carr's tunnell, and in one instance a stone was thrown through a car, breaking two window sashes. In order to catch the perpetrators, detectives Hackett and Cline took passage on the train at Latrobe, one in the engine and the other on the rear car. When passing the point where the stones had previously been thrown, one was hurled at the engine, which struck the headlight, shattering it into atoms. The train was immediately stopped, when the detectives and all hands on board, commenced to search for the culprits. They succeeded in capturing a little boy and little girl near where the stone was thrown, who informed them that the boy Wm. Mellin, had thrown the stone that broke the lamp, and had made good his escape. Officer Cline, of Greensburg, arrested young Mellin at his father's house, about half a mile from where the stones were thrown. He acknowledges that he threw the stones, but disclaims any intention of striking the cars. He was held to bail for a trial at Court.

Charge Against a Night Policeman.

Thomas McPete, a member of the night police force of the city, was arrested yesterday and brought before Alderman McMasters on a charge of larceny preferred by Charles Schowalter. The allegations of prosecution are, that he was arrested on the night of May 21st, by McPete and by him conveyed to the lock-up, where he remained all night; that he had on his person, when arrested, a pass book containing one hundred and eighteen dollars, a pass over the Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago Railway and a silver watch of the value of forty dollars. The further avers that when he looked through his pockets in the morning, all these articles was missing, with the exception of six dollars, and he believes that the said policeman extracted the same and appropriated them to his own use. The prosecutor acknowledges to having been on a slight "breeze" on the evening mentioned, and don't have much recollection of what occurred. The night policeman was arrested and entered bail for a hearing at three o'clock this afternoon.

Railroad Collision in Allegheny.

A collision occurred near the crossing of the Fort Wayne Railroad at Marion avenue, Allegheny, yesterday morning, between the Leetsdale accommodation and an empty train. The accommodation train was approaching the Federal street station at a low rate of speed, and just above the Marion avenue crossing it collided with a locomotive attached to some empty passenger cars. The engine of the accommodation train was somewhat injured, and the baggage car crushed to pieces. The engine attached to the empty cars was considerably damaged, one of the cylinder heads being knocked out, and other portions of the machinery broken. The passengers on the accommodation were greatly frightened, but no one was injured.

More Fifth Ward Fights.—The Fifth ward has always been a gay place and fertil keeps up its reputation. Together with the beer halls and "such," there is now and then a fight thrown in for the entertainment of the people. Alderman Taylor, the polite and affable magistrate of the ward, has his hands full occasionally. Two informations, one against Bailey and the other against Andrews, for assault and battery were made before him yesterday, in addition to what is reported elsewhere. One by Mary Ott against Mary Kershner for pulling her hair, and striking her with her fist, and another by Ellen Hagerty against Chas. Sproull for choking her and wrenching her arm. Warrants for the arrest of accused were issued in both cases.

Fight among the Stone Masons.—Charles A. Hern and David Reed are Stone masons by occupation, and of late have been employed on the building of the Third Presbyterian Church on Sixth street. Being thrown together so much, it is very natural they should disagree now and then on some subjects. One of these disagreements occurred the other day, when Reed in the heat of his passion challenged Hern out for a fight. Hern declined the proposition when, as he alleges, Reed pitched into him, knocked him down, and otherwise abused him. He accordingly made information yesterday, before Alderman McMasters, charging Reed with assault and battery, on which he was arrested, and gave bail for a hearing at 10 o'clock this morning.

More Convicts.—We have already noticed the arrest of Ellsworth, Sweeney and Steen, charged with burglariously entering the city grocery and provision store of Cale Well and Foreman, in Washington, Pennsylvania. The parties were tried in the Washington county criminal Court during the present week, and were found guilty. On Wednesday the prisoners were brought into court for sentence. Ellsworth was sentenced to undergo eight years imprisonment in the Western Penitentiary, and the others to five years each. Sheriff Smith, with his prisoners in custody, arrived in the city, yesterday, and safely lodged them in the institution to which they were consigned.

We are under obligations to W. A. Gildenfenny, 45 Fifth street, for Blackwood's Magazine for May.

Assault and Battery.—B. Mikeleser appeared before Alderman Taylor yesterday and made information against Fox Smithson, charging him with assault and battery. The parties are residents of the Fifth ward, and the prosecutor alleges that Smithland attacked him without any provocation, knocking him down with his fists, &c. A warrant was issued for the arrest of the accused.

Red Men on Parade.—The Monongahela Division of the United Order of Red Men made a very imposing parade through the streets of the city yesterday forenoon, bearing with them the beautiful banner on exhibition in a Fifth street window for some time. They proceeded to Washington Park, on Troy Hill, and there spent the day in festivities.

Disorderly Conduct Cases.—John O'Neill, drunk and disorderly on Monday night, was arrested and taken to the Mayor's office. He was released on the payment of twenty-five dollars and costs.

Robert B. Frazer, also drunk and disorderly, was arrested by officer Bell. He was released upon paying fifteen dollars and costs.

TWO TABLE SPOONFULS of the Extract of Sarsaparilla, added to a pint of water, is equal to the Lisbon Diet Drink, and one bottle is equal to a gallon of the Syrup of Sarsaparilla, or the decoctions as usually made.

AN INTERESTING LETTER is published in the Medico-Surgical Review, on the subject of the Extract of Sarsaparilla in certain affections, by Ben Smith Travers, F. R. C. S., Surgeon of those diseases, and diseases arising from the excess of mercury he states that no remedy is equal to the Extract of Sarsaparilla; its power is extraordinary, more so than any other drug I have ever used. It has a specific influence upon a tonic with this remarkable attribute, that it is not followed by a reaction; it is a tonic that does not get so irritable as renders other substances of the tonic class unavailable or injurious.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 30, 1867.

The New York stock quotations to-day, as received by Mr. P. R. Mertz, were as follows: Gold, 137¾; Eighty-one bonds, 111¾; Five Twenties, 1862, 109¾; do 1864, 105¾; do 1865, 106½ coupons, 108; Ten Forties, 99¾; Seven Thirties 106⅝@106⅝; Michigan Southern Railroad, 68¾; Cleveland & Pittsburgh, 79¾; Pittsburgh, Fort Wayne and Chicago, 96¾; Erie, 60¾; Chicago and Rock Island, 88¾; Chicago and Northwestern, 33¾; do preferred, 80¾; New York Central, 99¾; Reading, 103¾.

The gold market opened strong at 137¾, but gradually declined to 137⅝@137¾, with light transactions. The present premium on gold reflects the condition of the London money market. Consols are lower, but American securities keep firm at 72¾ on account of the demand from the Continent. Shipments of bonds are light now, as the price is about ¾ per cent. higher here than in London.

Government securities, on account of their high prices, are attracting but few investors. Railroad shares are firmer, but business is light and strictly confined to Wall street operators themselves. Mining shares are less in favor than they were some weeks ago, but dividend paying stocks are readily taken at the lowest quotations. Bank and Insurance shares not inquired for. Money is scarce, as it is usual at the beginning of every month.

—The Atlantic and Great Western Railway officials make the following statements in regard to the "Erie Transportation Co.:"

"This Company was formed in the year 1864, after the Union Transportation or Star Line was established. The organizations interested in its business are the New York and Erie to Dunkirk, the Lake Shore, Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati, Ohio and Indiana and Xenia and Little Miami. Last winter a charter was obtained for the Company from the Kentucky Legislature, with a capital of half a million or more. Beside the immediate benefits to be derived, two important objects were to be obtained by the organization. First, to satisfy the Cleveland, Columbus and Cincinnati and Lake Shore companies with a line as an offset to the Union Transportation or Star Line, which was run over their strongest competing roads—the Columbus and Xenia and Miami being the common trunk to both. And second, to head off the Atlantic and Great Western road and that of the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton, in connection with their natural broad gauge connection of the New York and Erie."

This corporation (says the New York Tribune) is understood to be one of the most profitable in the country and to be owned by the confidential servants of the Erie Railway, who never think it worth while to publish its officers or the dividends made.

—The cotton firm of Frazer, Trenholm & Co., whose failure created so much sensation last week, has for fifty years stood among the foremost mercantile houses of the United States. Their headquarters in this country were in Charleston, and The Mercury of that city says that of late the cement the chief, if not the only steady light burning amid the mercantile ruin which reigns in South Carolina. The suspension is attributed to the decline in the price of cotton, with the arrest of the banking facilities formerly extended to it. It is well known that early in the season the Bank of England adopted the policy of refusing banking accommodations, previously accorded to those engaged in the trade. The Mercury says that the effect has been to put the holders of cotton in the power of the buyers, and the merchants, factors, and planters of the South have, in the depressed price of cotton throughout the spring, felt the baleful influence of this gigantic and controlling institution."

—Merchants and bankers scarcely appreciate to what extent they are interested in the operations of the banking act, particularly in the thirty-fifth and thirty-ninth sections. Those of them who have not read it should make it a point to do so, for no more earnest prompter to a close scrutiny of the credit and standing of debtors could well be devised. It will serve as a thorough test of credit, and, as it must certain, in a great degree, the prevalent loose system of accommodation ceases. It is the opinion of most persons that the law puts an effectual stop to the custom of preferring even the most obliging, confidential creditor, and brings all to the same level. The application of the reform that this will work will be severe to some whose credit may be curtailed, but it will bring those who retain a place in trade by killing, or by leaning too confidently on their friends, to realize that they must keep their business within their means. This feature of the law may become odious, and force either its repeal or its amendment; but, in fact, nothing in it is better calculated to promote and preserve sound principles of business. It will tend to check rash speculations that have, at other people's means or credit, and cause reckless, untrustworthy adventurers to work within their means, or retire from their ranks. It, however, it is very certain to become unpopular, since, in its work of purification, it may involve many honest and well meaning men, with no unfair intent or fear of danger, are carrying more credit than their pursuits warrant.

—The receipts of internal revenue on Monday reached the low figure of $149,000. One cause for this is the fact that nearly all the whisky now made is going into bond. It is the opinion of leading officers of the Treasury that if the tax was paid on all the whisky now consumed in this country, the receipts of internal revenue would be ample for all the government expenditures.

PITTSBURGH PETROLEUM MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 30, 1867.

CRUDE—There is not a single quotation in Crude to-day, at least we had none reported, and while the market is dull and depressed, prices are nominally unchanged. Spot oil may be quoted in the absence of sales, at 7¼; for delivery there seems to be but little disposition manifested to either buy or sell, though it is probable that 7¼ could be obtained for all June, buyer's option.

REFINED—Sale of 2000 bbls standard white, for October delivery in Philadelphia, at 29; and 1000 prime light straw to white, for June, at 28. The market for Refined, in sympathy with crude, is also very dull, and what is worse still, there are no indications at present of any immediate improvement.

PITTSBURGH MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 30, 1867.

The general markets continue dull, and as the demand for most of the leading commodities is restricted mainly to supplying immediate wants, round lot operations are the exception rather than the general rule. In prices, there are no material changes, though the tendency generally is downward.

GROCERIES—The advance in gold has imparted a little firmer feeling to the Grocery market, though, as yet, there has been no material change in prices. Rio Coffee is still quoted at 25 to 28c for fair to choice. Sugars—New Orleans choice, 14½@; Cuba, 11½ to 12½@; Porto Rico, 13 to 14c, hard refined, 16½ to 16½@; soft do, 14½ to 15½@. Molasses, 85c to $1 for New Orleans; Porto Rico, 75 to 85c, and Cuba, 65c to 70c. Rice—12½ to 14c for Carolina, and 10½@11½@ for Rangoon. Syrups range all the way from 65c to $1.10—the outside figure only for choice brands.

GRAIN—Not enough doing in Wheat to establish quotations. Oats may be quoted at 73c to 75c—the outside figure having been obtained during the week for several car loads, and we understand it was refused for a round lot of 2000 bushels. Corn is dull and entirely nominal; prime Shelled may be quoted at $1. Rye is dull and nominal at $1.03 to $1.70. Nothing doing in Barley.

—Since the above was put in type, we have the following sales reported: 4000 bushels Shelled Corn at 95c; 2000 bushels Oats, to arrive, at 65c, and 50 sacks do, on wharf, at 72c.

FLOUR—Is dull and weak, the demand being restricted to supplying immediate wants, but prices are nominally unchanged. We quote at $13.75 to $14.25 for Spring Wheat; $15.50 to $16 for White Wheat, and $18 to $19 for fancy brands. Rye Flour, $8.75 to $10.

PROVISIONS—Bacon is steady, with regular jobbing sales at previous quotations. We continue to quote at 9½@ for Shoulders; 11½ to 12½@ for Ribbed and Clear Sides; 15½ for Plain Sugar Cured; 14c for Plain Hams, and 16½@ for Canvassed Sugar Cured Hams. Lard, 13 to 13½@; Dried Beef, 22½ to 23c, and Mess Pork, $23 to $23.50.

BUTTER—Is in rather better demand, and while the market is steady and fairly active, prices remain unchanged at 18@20c for prime to choice Rolls.

EGGS—In fair demand but unchanged—fresh packed may be quoted at 17 to 18—sales mostly at 17c.

CHEESE—Is rather dull but unchanged—sales at 14 to 16c, as to quality.

DRIED FRUIT—Is dull and drooping. We now quote at 7½@8c for Apples, and 10@12c for Peaches.

POTATOES—The supply continues very light, and with a good local demand, prices are well sustained; prime Peach Blows selling at $1.45 to $1.50 per bushel.

HAY—There is a fair local demand for prime baled Hay, and it may be quoted at from $25 to $27. Common Hay is dull, and hard to sell at any price.

SEEDS—There seems to be little or no demand for Seed of any kind, and there are no established prices. Even Flaxseed seems to be dull and nominal at $3.

OIL.—Lard Oil is firm, with regular sales by manufacturers at 87@88c, for No. 2, and $1.05 @1.10 for No. 1.

CENTRAL LIVE-STOCK MARKET

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, THURSDAY, May 30, 1867.

CATTLE.

There are no new characteristics in the market worthy of special notice. With a continued good demand and limited offerings, prices are well sustained, and, if anything, extra cattle are a shade higher than last week. Stock cattle are scarce and wanted, and would sell readily at 4 to 7c. There were several Allegheny buyers in attendance to-day, the outrageous prices in the West having prevented them from going to Chicago this week, as they usually do, and this, as a matter of course, had a tendency to stiffen the market somewhat. As will be seen by reference to the sales, prices ranged all the way from 7.50 to 9.60 per pound, gross weight. There is no apparent falling off in shipments of through stock, about 135 carloads having been shipped to New York alone during Saturday and Monday—the shipments to Philadelphia and Baltimore continue, as they have been for some time past, light.

SHEEP.

There has been a fair business done in this class of stock during the past week, the sales in the aggregate being fully up, if not a little in excess of last week, but with continued liberal arrivals, prices are barely sustained. Common and inferior Sheep ruled dull, and were hard to sell at any price, while prime fat retailing Sheep sold without much difficulty at about last week's prices, say 6¾ to 6¾, and extra at 6¾@7. There is little or no difference made between wooled and clipped sheep, which is owing to the fact that a much larger number of the latter can be put in a car than of the former, the increased cost in shipment being regarded as an offsett against the price of the wool.

HOGS.

The market has been a little weak and drooping this week, notwithstanding the sales in the aggregate were about as large as usual. Compared with last week, prices are a shade lower, and buyers are still asking for concessions, Philadelphia Hogs may be quoted at 6¾ to 7¼c, and New York Hogs at 6 to 6¾.
